General marking principles for Higher ESOL Writing

Always apply these general principles. Use them in conjunction with the detailed marking instructions, which identify the key features required in candidates' responses.

- (a) Always use positive marking. This means candidates accumulate marks for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding; marks are not deducted for errors or omissions.
- (b) Assessment should be holistic. There may be strengths and weaknesses in the performance; focus as far as possible on the strengths, taking account of weaknesses only where they significantly detract from the overall performance.
- (c) Do not award marks where the candidate has used in their writing chunks of text lifted en bloc from the reading passages.
- (d) Award marks where the candidate demonstrates ability according to the main criteria of content and organisation; vocabulary and spelling; and grammar and punctuation.
- (e) Award the highest level descriptor for writing even if there are a number of basic slips and errors of grammar, spelling and punctuation, etc. These should not detract from your overall impression of the candidate's performance.
- (f) Candidates may display ability across more than one band descriptor. You must consider carefully the most appropriate overall band for the candidate's performance.
- (g) Once the appropriate band descriptor has been selected, follow this guidance
 - if the evidence almost matches the level above, award the highest available mark from the range
 - if the candidate's work just meets the standard described, award the lowest mark from the range
 - otherwise award the mark from the middle of the range
- (h) The script must be legible. Do not make mark judgements based on the quality of the handwriting. If answers are written in capitals, use legibility as a criterion.
